The Daily Press.

HONGKONG, AUGUST 11TH, 1890.

In expressing approval of Mr. Chadwick's drainage scheme the Sanitary Board on Friday committed itself to the opinion that the Board ought to be the supervising authority for both the water supply and the public as well as private drainage of the Colony. The Board will no doubt be supported in this by the unofficial members of the Legislative Council, who will have an opportunity of expressing their views on the subject when the money for carrying out the drainage scheme is asked for. If there be any truth in the saying that it is always the unexpected that happens it is possible that even the Government may be found favourably disposed towards such an obviously desirable extension of control by the raters over their own affairs, and that we may, perhaps be on the eve of the establishment of a municipality. We are inclined to think, however, that the attitude of the official majority towards this important question will be very much the same as that assumed by the Surveyor-General at Friday's meeting of the Sanitary Board. There is, says the hon. gentleman, a good deal in the letter which the Board decided to send to the Government, with which neither he nor any Government official could agree. But why could no Government official agree with it? Is it because, like the silversmiths of Ephesus, they think their profit in danger? If so their alarm is needless, for, generally speaking, it will be found that the substantial advantages enjoyed by officers under a municipality are as great and often greater, than those enjoyed by officers under the supreme Government; Municipal Councils being as a rule composed of liberal-minded men of business, who in the matter of salaries as well as of other things are less liable than a Government composed solely of officials to follow a penury-wise and pound-foolish policy. The opposition, can hardly arise from any honest belief that popular control in municipal affairs is baneful, for that is a completely exploded creed. A Conservative Government has within the last few years established County Councils in England, and in India the Government has for many years past been trying to extend the principle of local self-government in such matters as sanitation. What is there in the circumstances of Hongkong that makes it undesirable that the raters should have a voice in determining the conditions of the water supply and the public sewerage of the Colony? Nothing. The only real obstacle is the vanity of the official class. Under a popular form of government the officials cannot affect to stand on a pinnacle apart from other men as they do under a bureaucratic form of government.

The demands made by the advocates for reform are very moderate. In a Crown Colony it is essential that the Crown should retain control of the legislature, although even there we think the elective element might be introduced somewhat more largely without prejudice to the principle. But what is now asked for is simply that the ratemakers should have the same control over their purely municipal affairs that is enjoyed by the raters of the towns and villages of England and of India. In all matters affecting Imperial interests we must persevere to be governed from Downing Street, but in such matters as water supply, drainage, roads, markets, cemeteries, and so forth, what possible reason can there be why we should still be held in leading strings? The Hon. S. Brown at Friday said he had long foreseen the sweeping change involved in the separation of the Water and Drainage Department from the Public Works Department. "Sweeping" is an elastic term which may mean much or little according to the circumstances in which it is used, but if Mr. Brown means, as the context seems to indicate, that he looked upon the change as a breaking up of the old system and a preparing of the way for municipal government, we hope the hon. gentleman's estimate is correct. To take as an instance the Chinese cemeteries, their condition must be admitted to far from satisfactory, and from what Mr. Brown said on Friday it would seem that it has been no one's duty in particular to look after them. Such a state of things could not have prevailed led under a Municipal Council.

From the time of the establishment of the Sanitary Board on its present basis it has been looked upon—not by the Government, perhaps, but by others—as the nucleus and foundation of our future Municipal Council, and the consideration of the new drainage scheme will afford the unofficial members of Council an opportunity of insisting on the principle of an extension of municipal institutions which they can hardly fail to avail themselves of. When the Public Health Bill was under discussion in the Legislative Council the Hon. A. P. MacEwan took exception to the abbreviation given to the name of the Sanitary Board.

It was agreed that the Sanitary Board should be constituted the Water Authority instead of the Sanitary Board—but the Government took frustrated the prefix and struck it out. We hope that on the present occasion some success may attend the efforts to secure something of the substance of what is implied in the word "Municipal" though the name be still denied. It should probably be expected, as already remarked, that the officials will give anything like a cordial support, but if the battle be well conducted they may be compelled to yield to reason. As a straw showing how the wind blows in the official mind we may take, not only the remarks of Mr. Brown at Friday's meeting of the Sanitary Board, but also those of the Hon. W. M. Goodman and Hon. N. G. Mervin. The Bill, in connection with the Waterworks Bill recently passed by the Legislative Council, that measure, it will be remembered, was referred to a Special Committee, whose meetings were unfortunately held in private. When the Bill again came before the Council there was an extraordinary difference of opinion between the official and unofficial members as to the understanding arrived at by the Special Committee as to the future control of the Waterworks. The unofficial members were under the impression that it was agreed that it would be desirable, after the completion of the work, that the Sanitary Board should be constituted the Water Authority instead of the Resident Engineer, who was to occupy that position in the meantime. The official members, however, had not admitted that any such understanding had been arrived at. The idea of anything in the nature of popular control was no doubt so foreign to their mind that it could not readily take root there. An opportunity now occurs of bringing the question to a direct issue in the Council itself. If the proposal that the Sanitary Board should be constituted the supervising authority over the water supply and over the public drainage be negatived, the mere discussion of the subject cannot fail to adduce indirectly the cause of popular institutions in the Colony.

The vote of thanks accorded by the Sanitary Board on Friday to the Hon. O. Chadwick will be cordially acquiesced in by the public generally. A scheme of drainage having been proposed which met with some opposition and provoked counter-schemes, Mr. Chadwick was sent out as an expert to examine and report on the conflicting proposals. His arrival was hailed with satisfaction, for he had already fulfilled a commission in the Colony and he commanded the public confidence. That confidence has been justified and increased by the very able manner in which he has done his work, as shown in the complete and lucid reports he has made. His conclusions have been accepted by all parties as correct, being supported by explanations and arguments that left no room for opposition, and he will leave a happy and united family so far as the question of drainage is concerned. Mr. Chadwick deserves the thanks of the community no less than of his colleagues on the Sanitary Board.

It is notified in Saturday's Gazette that the Chinese Agent, empowering Mr. George Cook to act as Consul for Germany at Hongkong, received His Majesty's signature on the 21st June last.

An announcement in the Gazette of Saturday intimates that His Majesty has been advised to exercise his power of disallowance with respect to Ordinance No. 4 of 1890, to amend the Public Health Ordinance, 1897.

The China Times says that among the passengers by the steamer Sydney with the next outward French mail, left on Saturday at 8 P.M. on Saturday for France, was a child, six years of age, whose death is reported to have occurred on the 15th August. The steamer Sydney, built by the Hongkong & Whampoa Dock Company to the order of the Government of the Philippines, and which the latter refused to take delivery of, has been sold to the Siamese Government for $10,000. The sale being completed on Saturday, Mr. G. B. Broadbent, of the Sydney, who made the purchase on behalf of the Siamese Government, went over on Saturday afternoon to the Kowloon Docks with Mr. Gillett and took formal possession of the Sydney, when the Chinese flag was hoisted on the vessel, and instructions given for her present name to be erased and that of Siamese to be substituted.

The China Times says that among the passengers by the M. M. steamer Congo, which recently passed through the Bosphorus bound for China, was the celebrated missionary, the Rev. Father Auguste Desgrolins, one of the few men who boast of an acquaintance with the interior of Tibet. Father Desgrolins not only penetrated into the hostile territory, but also made a long journey, being a full month's march of death for his country, before he was released from prison he remained there for the long period of 37 years, during which time he made a number of maps of the country and wrote a voluminous history of the subject.

The New York Herald says that an investigation having reached the Admiralty, that the Victorine, received a signal from the Victorine on Saturday, 15th August, to the effect that the Victorine had been captured by the Siamese on the 15th August, and was now in the custody of the Siamese Government.

SIR JOHN POPE HENNESSY ON THE AFRICAN QUESTION.

Under the heading of "The African Bubble" Sir John Pope Hennessy writes as follows in the Nineteenth Century for July:

In April, 1872, when the convention by which the King of Holland transferred to England all the Dutch colonies in West Africa was curtailed, the last batch of slaves destined to us before he embarked at Elmira, "We have been here two years, and have made no impression on the negro race. The administration of Negro Land by Europeans is an impossibility.

It will come when the British Government will make a similar confession."

On taking over the Dutch settlements I had to declare that the slaves were to be sent to the Cape of Good Hope, and that the Dutch Government had no right to interfere with the slaves.

By a garrisoned town at Loveland, Ohio, the slaves were killed and forty injured to-day.

ABRIDGED PROSPECTUS.
This Company is formed for the purpose of acquiring and carrying on the well-known and lucrative Hotel business conducted for many years by the late Mr. G. Johnson, and for the past nine years by Mr. W. G. Johnson, who is now desirous of reducing his active participation in the management, but has his entire confidence in the prosperity of the Company by becoming a large holder of Shares.

The property purchased by the Company is as follows:

A piece of land having a frontage to the Bund of 24 ft. 5 in. and held in perpetuity from the Japanese Government at an annual rent of £100. The land is the first location made when the port was opened to foreign trade and carries with it the extremely valuable privilege to use the beach in front of the land for its entire length down to low water mark, an advantage not enjoyed by any lot in the Foreign Concession, and which effectively secures to the property an uninterrupted view of the Harbour.

The main building of the Hotel, situated at the corner of Division Street and the Bund, and in close proximity to the Jardine's, the usual landing place for passengers from vessels visiting Kobe. The building is substantially constructed of stone and brick, and has recently been repaired and painted, and contains spacious Bar and Billiard Room, large Dining Room, Bar Room, &c. &c. It is a first-class Hotel.

Full particulars can be obtained at the Company's Offices, No. 5 Queen's Road Central, A. SHELTON HOOPEL, Secretary.
